If you are unsure whether your professional background meets the standards for certification, please email us a copy of your educational background and CV to info@evergreencertifications.com

International Applicants: Please check for a link to standards specific to your country of practice. If no link is available, please email us a copy of your educational background and CV to info@evergreencertifications.com

1.2 By applying for certification, the applicant agrees to adhere to Evergreen Certifications' Professional Code of Ethics, available at www.evergreencertifications.com/codeofethics

2.0 Educational Standards

2.1 The applicant must meet the following education criteria (total minimum of 12 hours of continuing education):

- How anger is experienced and processed differently in the child and teen brain
- Describe the internal and societal parts of the anger cycle
- The role of anger as a secondary emotion to fear, guilt, resentment & shame
- Connections between anger, learning differences, ADHD, and ODD
- How to create emotional safety to engage children and teens about sensitive subjects
- Teaching children and teens to tune into anger triggers

- Mindfulness and relaxation techniques to let go of anger
- Cognitive approaches to identify, challenge and reduce negative self-talk
- Positive psychology approaches to open children and teens to optimism
- Assertiveness and communication training techniques
- Coaching parents, caregivers, & educators to support anger management
- Self-harm and other harm considerations

2.2 Suitable education sources are approved continuing education as documented by certificates of completion from the accredited training organization.

Evergreen Certifications will accept courses that have been completed within 3 years of initial application for certification.

3.0 Certification Application Process

1. Submit the following documents:
 - a. A copy of the applicant's professional license
 - b. Copies of completion of training as outline in the Educational Standards
2. Payment of certification application fee

Evergreen Certifications will certify applicants who meet the above requirements.

Please note: Certification does not imply endorsement of clinical competency. As a licensed professional, you are responsible for reviewing the scope of practice, including activities that are defined in law as beyond the boundaries of practice in accordance with and in compliance with your profession's standards.

4.0 Renewal of Certification

To maintain certification, a renewal is required. The steps to apply for a 1-year renewal are as follows:

1. Submit a copy of your professional license as well as a completion certificate for six (6) clock hours of anger-focused continuing education.
2. Payment of renewal application fee

You can also apply for renewal for 2 or 3 years. Follow the process above, submitting twelve (12) CE hours of training for a 2-year renewal, and eighteen (18) CE hours of training for a 3-year renewal.

Renewal training hours need to have been taken in the time since you were certified or last renewed. Renewals are calculated from the date that your certification was issued.

If you allow your certification to lapse for more than 3 years, you are no longer eligible to renew your certification and instead can reapply for certification.
